Your item has already had a public hearing (in ED Committee last Tuesday) so it may get taken up and voted on by Council quickly without discussion.

FYI: Although the item may get a speaker card, because it's already had a public hearing, Council isn't required to let anyone speak unless they just want to. That's usually what happens unless there is some controversy that a Councilmember is concerned about. If that were the case, Council office usually contacts the BID ahead of time to find out what's going on or if the BID expects something to come up, they contact the Council office ahead of time.

Let me know if you have any questions.
