We have the issue about BID vs directors paying. Last year I think the BID paid, the year before we each paid $50.00.

Have a great weekend.

LG,

Please do not assume I was taking over the coordination of the event. I would rather not have one more thing on my plate. Jim came to me and was strongly recommending that the BID pay for the evening vs. each member paying for dinner (alcoholic drinks excluded). I told him I would need to discuss first with Mike. When I read the email he sent, it read as if the decision had been made already by the way the question was phrased. I did not want Mike to think a decision had been made without referring to him as President. That's all. Feel free to coordinate away.

As the Grub rep, I thought I was coordinating...no big deal, but it does get confusing for Betty. Also, while the BID doesn't pay for beer & wine, The Board will want alcoholic beverages. I am willing to host the bar. Make sure Jim gets the cost with tax & tip included.

Love n hugs,
Laurie

Betty,

I think Jim wants to know what the cost would be IF the BID decides to provide food for the evening. If you could provide both estimates: $ per attendee and total $ for BID that would be really helpful?

Cant' wait to see you!

Betty, and many thanks to you for offering our Board Grub as the location for our December BID Board meeting and dinner. The details regarding this are as follows.

Date/Times: Monday, Dec. 15th, 5pm to about 7-7:30pm

Attending: there would be about 25 people

Food and beverages: buffet style with nonalcoholic beverages

Could you give us a price as to what our cost would be? (any beer or wine would be separate and not included in our cost)

Thanks!
